Whose encouragement and suggestions turned this effort From a railroad book bibliography to the Definitive Railroad Book and Thesis Bibliography

Not copyrighted

Books, booklets and theses totaling about 16,000 having significant historical material pertaining to their subjects. Steam and electric railways and also includes about 3000 articles not listed in Book #2 are listed pages 1 – 400s (Part A) cover the period up to 2003. Pages 501 and up, Part B, are 2003 – 2011. I had planned to merge the two into a single listing, but I wasn't sure I could do it because of my limited computer abilities. Also I wanted to show the difference of the recent books and before. You will note the huge number of books now being churned out at the rate of three a week are either picture books or have a text that basically connects pictures and required little or no research by the author.

It also became evident that for many railroads all you need do is turn out another book of mostly pictures every few years on the railroad and the fans will buy it

Word searches can be done for all of Book #3 by typing the search word in your computer Find.

NOTE

The following reference books given in the Subject section of this book have been fully indexed in Book #2 on pages 697 to 753. The indexing includes all photographs, drawings and factual information as shown here, Except for "Street Railways...," these books are mostly illustrations of builder photographs, erection drawings and detail part drawings.

American Locomotive Engineering and Railway Mechanism	i, 1871, page 697
Recent Locomotives	1883, page 697
Modern Locomotives	1897, page 697 - 699
Locomotive Dictionary / Cyclopedia	1906 – 1997, page 700 - 714
Car Builders Dictionary / Cyclopedia	1879 - 1997, page 715 - 745
Street Railways: Their Construction, Operation and Mainten	ance 1892, page 746

Book #4 includes fully indexed encyclopedias, but these are not predominated by illustrations. Illustrations merely enhance the text.

INTRODUCTION

This bibliography is the culmination of discussion that began about 1975 when John H. White, jr., curator of transportation at the Smithsonian and others there discussed the potential merits of a steam locomotive railroad biography. The lack of money delayed the start until 1983 when a suitable volunteer appeared, Al Eggerton, with initially Geoffrey Germond giving ideas. They first recorded the 2000 railroad books owned by the Smithsonian. Then they checked used book catalogs, primarily of Owen Davies, the best-known railroad book dealer in the country. A catalog published by the Bureau of Railroad Economics and book reviews of the R. & L. H. S. and N. R. H. S. journals followed.

By 2001 this initial search had been completed and 4200 books listed. Tom Taber then joined with ideas for finding many additional books and a format. Electric street railways and interurbans, mass transit, published reports, trade catalogs if in book form, theses, booklets as small as 36 pages and occasionally down to 24. Articles in periodicals not included in the Railroad Periodicals Index (Often of city, county and state historical society journals) were added.

Most books, pamphlets and reports published prior to 1912 were found to be listed in Railway Economics – a Collective Catalog of Books in Fourteen American Libraries. They were added. By 2003 15,000 items produced by individuals, companies, state and federal legislatures and their commissions covering such topics as charters, reorganizations, and courts. Railway Economics includes locations of these materials. At its rear is an index of all railroads, which have material, scattered through the catalogue. Anyone doing research on railroads prior to 1912 should see this bibliography, locations given in WorldCat database and railroads specializing libraries.

From the Railway and Locomotive Historical Society's Bulletin from 1934 to 1970 Worth Reading have been indexed published reports on many railroad subjects. In 1970 PhD theses were added

Railroad books published in the 1990s and 2000s are increasingly weak on historical research and increasingly more and more basically picture books with text sort of connecting the pictures. This trend as of 2012 is expected to continue to increase. Those that profess to be historical have little history pre contemporary history. But there are exceptions and hopefully this DVD may help those who want to explore the unknown.

As this DVD was not subsidized, I could not afford someone to edit it. I made mistakes in copying titles and author names and it is weak on "professional".

BUUKS

Railroad books have greatly changed over the years – from instructional to instructional & entertaining, but since the late 1940s there has been few as the importance of major railroads for transportation and social visibility and prominence declined. Prior to 1935 few histories had been written. Most books were intended for those whose work was with railroads

In the period from about 1900 to 1925 some railroads produced corporate histories, which included detail information on every subsidiary. There are excellent reference works. These books can usually be recognized in this bibliography because of their large number of pages, usually between 500 and 1000 or even more pages. Following WWII some major railroads paid to have histories written, but they usually left much to be desired such as the R&LHS history in their Railroad History issue #200.

THESES

WorldCat has more than 4000 steam and electric railroad theses. Many appear to be interesting and excellent; others made me wonder, my favorite being this: "Effects of longitudinal and vertical deceleration on occupant motion in rail collisions." All these were obtain from WorldCat regardless of whether a WC appears in the location column

The earliest thesis I found appeared in 1868 at the University of Maine. During the 1870's=1910 bri9dge design had frequent entries and continued into the mid 1920s. Some dealt with existing bridges, but most were bridges designed by the author. There were hundreds. During the 1920s grade cross elimination projects predominated. More recently railroad mass transit, light rail has predominated, but since the 2010s, fewer and fewer theses have been railroad subjects. Those by 2005 were on government-sponsored projects, and I found none having future historical merit. I did not index these few studies.

"GUINNESS" RECORDS as of the late 1990s:

- First author of many books of interest to rail fans: Edward Hungerford
- Most pages published by a rail fan: probably Lucius Beebe
- First picture book" Lucius Beebe High Iron, 1938
- First "big" rail fan produced book Lucius Beebe's Mixed Train Daily
- First rail fan to nationally publicize the hobby Lucius Beebe with Mixed Train Daily.
- Most prolific fiction writer: Francis Lynde with 13 books
- Most steam railroad books and booklets by a railfan up to 2003 R. P. Omsted with 22
- Most electric railway books and booklets by a rail fan up to 2003: O. R. Cummings with 42
- Most non railfan books published: G. L. Wilson with 31
- Longest period of books published: Thomas T. Taber III, 56 years
- Largest railroad history (not primarily pictures): Thomas T. Taber III, Benjamin Kline & Walter Casler, Logging Railroad Era of Lumbering in Pennsylvania, 1450 pages, 700,000 words.
- Largest railroads for which no history book has been written up to 2003: Belt Railway of Chicago and Terminal Railroad of St. Louis.
- Railroad with most books, booklets, and pamphlets over 16 pages: Pennsylvania RR 300+
- Railroad history subject with the most books: Constructing the Union Pacific Central Pacific transcontinental railroad 25 (excluding juvenile books)

- Book with the most page and words: Guide to Railroad Historical Research, 1850 pages and 1,600,000 words by Thomas T.
   Taber III
- Best authors for series of railroad related histories: Richard E. Prince on 12 Southern railroads and Mallory Hope Ferrell 13 on narrow gauge railroads.
- Authors with ten or more non "coffee table" historical books as of 2003: Lucius Beebe, Gerald Best, Harold Cox, O. P.
   Cummings, Mallory H. Ferrell, H. Roger Grant, George W. Hilton, Edward Hungerford, Robert LeMassena, Wm. D. Middleton, Richard Prince, B. W. Rothbecvk, V. F. Seyfried, Thomas T. Taber III and John H. White, Jr
- Author of most frequently indexed articles: John H. White, Jr.

HOW TO USE

This bibliography needs clarification for several categories of information.

All books are listed in the Alphabetic listing. Books are cross referenced (up to 2003) by author and 2011 for subjects, the subjects being summarized on the Contents page.

Authors: Where two or more authored a book, the name of the first two appear in the main listing, but only the first name appears alphabetically in the Author list. Some books could not determine the author's name.

Year: Usually the year of initial publication. Subsequent editions are listed if the number of pages changed.

Pages For books covering several railroads, which are cross indexed by railroad, the number of pages in the cross reference is the number devoted to that railroad if I saw the book; otherwise it is the total book pages.

Description briefly tells what the book covers or is like. Locations: Books published before 1841 have their locations shown in Check List of Publications on American Railroads before 8411 published by the N. Y. Public Library. Those published before 1912 have locations given in Railway Economics- A Collective Catalogue of Books in Fourteen American Libraries. Three of the collections have been moved. The Bureau of Railway Economics material is now at the Barriger Library, St. Louis; the Interstate Commerce Commission materials are at Penrose Library, University of Denver, and the John Crerar Library is now part of the Univ. of Chicago. Copies of these two indexes are a Strasburg, Pa RR Museum, Barriger Library Univ. of Mo, St. Louis, California State RR Museum, Sacramento and DeGolyer Library, Southern Methodist Univ., Dallas.

Additionally since 1912 scarcer books and some that are merely manuscripts are shown with location numbers. If no location is given. Hopefully locations can be learned at WorldCat Data Base

- 1. Montana Historical Society, Helena
- 2. Library of Congress
- 3. Railroad Museum of Pa., Strasburg
- 4. New Jersey Historical Society, Newark
- 5. N. Y. Public Library
- 6. Univ. of Ill.
- 7. Stanford Univ.
- 8. Barriger Library, St. Louis. (A good source for hard to find pamphlets)
- 9. Bucknell Univ. Lewisburg, Pa.
- 10. BRE Barriger Library. Formerly Bureau of Ry. Economics A.A.R. Library at Washington
- 11. ICC Penrose Library, Univ. of Denver

- National Transportation Library online database, TRIS, begins listings about 1960. It includes articles besides books
- Library of Congress website PCLC is available at all university libraries and many public libraries. Lacks books not given to them and much older material is limited to index cards
- RLIN is available at scholarly libraries

WORLDCAT

This data base was initially for universities but now can be reached on the Internet by individuals

It has some major deficiencies trying to use. Also some books that do not have the title of the railroad or just initials will not be shown. When I first used it in 2003 it was relatively simple. In 2012 I found major inconsistencies. However this DVD I have done my best to include all the books that it lists one way or another. It leaves much to be desired.

Using it to locate a library for a book. Many titles have been abridged to eliminate the a, an and other unnecessary words. As a result WorldCat may not recognize what you think is a full title. This can be gotten around by entering only a distinctive phrase of the title and possibly augmented by the name of the author or year.

ings and suggestions that I adopted such as checking WorldCat. I would also like to thank Delfred Holmes for solving my computer problems and Lon Tarr for putting this on a DVD.

COMPILERS

The late Albert Eggerton was manager of communications for the Southern Ry and later the Norfolk Southern Ry. He was a long time volunteer at the Smithsonian's railroad division

The late Thomas R. Bullard prepared an index of books and articles on electric railways up to 1983. Harold Cox, who is the #1 trolley expert in the United States, published it and I appreciate he allowing to use it.

Thomas T. Taber III, formerly an industrial engineer, compiled more than 30 books on local and railroad history during a period of over fifty years.

Thomas T. Taber III November 2012

Excellent Reference Books and Locations Where Available

road subjects - a book being defined as a publication of 64 or more pages. A catalog of these books is now in preparation.

The books selected for listing in the Guide are frequently used by researchers - a basic library. Several are periodically updated and reissued and are so noted with dates in brackets.

Some of these books can be found at most large libraries. No attempt has been made to list more than a representative group of libraries scattered around the country for them. However, in some cases the places listed may be the only ones where they can be foundunless the researcher is lucky.

Approximately 10,000 books have been published on rail- If a few instances cop-ies are only known in the libraries of a few collectors.

Books are grouped by subject. For those which are reissued periodically, a letter S, R, or C follows the resource center identification .:

S means the location only has a very few R means reasonably (50-85%) complete

C means a complete holding with possibly one or two years missing. For publications issued monthly or quarterly, such as the Official Guide, a C means that there is at least one for every year except possibly for one or two years,
